The HSE certificate is offered as an extra option along with the Master’s program. The certificate is administered jointly by the Department of Industrial Engineering and the Department of Health Policy and Management within Pitt’s Graduate School of Public Health. It provides rigorous, multi-disciplinary training for individuals interested in pursuing careers in healthcare systems process and management engineering. The HSE certificate option is open to all Master’s students and students must apply and be accepted before they join the department. For IE graduate students, the MS degree in IE along with the HSE certificate requires a total of 37-38 credits distributed as follows:

1. Required Core (9 credits)
   - (a) IE 2001: OPERATIONS RESEARCH (3 cr.)
   - (b) IE 2005: PROBABILITY & STATISTICS FOR ENGINEERS (3 cr.)
   - (c) IE 2006: INTRODUCTION TO MANUFACTURING SYSTEMS (3 cr.)

2. IE Elective Core: two of the following (6 credits)
   - a) IE 2003: ENGINEERING MANAGEMENT (3 cr.)
   - b) IE 2007: STATISTICS AND DATA ANALYSIS (3 cr.)
   - c) IE 2088: SIMULATION (3 cr.)
   - d) IE 2100: SUPPLY CHAIN ANALYSIS (3 cr.)
   - e) IE 2303: WORK DESIGN (3 cr.)

3. Required IE Electives (9 credits)

\(^1\)Must be IE 2303 if student’s undergraduate degree is not in Industrial Engineering

\(^2\)These electives can be switched around, or the last term could be reduced to just 3 credits if these elective credits are taken earlier in the program (e.g., during the fall or summer)

\(^3\)Cannot be taken until the last term
